

Family Internet Contract

1. I will honor God and my parents when I use the Internet. This includes what websites I visit, what I can do, when I can go online, and how long I can be online.
2. Using the Internet is a privilege, not a right. It can be taken away at any time for any reason.
3. I will never give out personal information such as my home address, telephone number, my parents' work address or telephone number, credit card numbers, or the name and location of my school without my parents' permission.
4. I will always tell my parents immediately if I see or receive anything on the Internet that makes me feel uncomfortable or threatened, including e-mail messages, Web sites, or even anything in the regular mail from Internet friends.
5. I will never agree to meet anyone in person that I have met online, without my parents' permission.
6. I will never send pictures of myself or other family members to other people through the Internet or regular mail without first checking with my parents.
7. I will never give out my Internet passwords to anyone (even my best friends) other than my parents.
8. I will not do anything online that could hurt or anger other people or that is against the law.
9. I will never download, install, or copy anything from disks or the Internet without proper permission.
10. I will never do anything on the Internet that costs money without first asking permission from my parents.
11. I will let my parents know my Internet logon, chat names, and passwords listed below:
